SUBJECT: Revision of DoD 5105.38-M, the Security Assistance Management Manual (SAMM), DSCA Policy 10-28)

DSCA has begun a full revision of the Security Assistance Management Manual (SAMM), which sets forth the responsibilities, policies, and procedures governing the administration of security assistance activities, and some security cooperation activities, within the Department of Defense. It applies to all Military Departments and other Implementing Agencies performing these activities.

The revision will focus on reorganizing the SAMM to provide the Security Cooperation community with a process-flow manual which will apply a start-to-finish approach to case development rather than the collection of topic based chapters currently offered. We plan to take advantage of electronic formatting capabilities and will update, remove, and add new content where needed. Our goal is to make the SAMM a web enabled, user-friendly tool for the Security Cooperation community.

Our plan is to begin staffing a draft version of the revised SAMM in early October 2010 and to make the finished version available in early 2011. If you have questions concerning the attached guidance, please contact Mike Slack, DSCA/STR/POL, by phone at (703) 601-3842 or by email at michael.slack@dscamil.
